FURTHER SAITH AFFIANT NOT.

In accordance with 28 U.S.C. § 1746, I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.

APPENDIX H

STANDING ORDER IN RE: ELECTRONIC CASE FILING STANDING ORDER No. 04-01
AND ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEDURES

2. A party may conventionally submit exhibits which are not available in electronic form. The Clerk's Office will note on the docket its receipt of the document(s) or exhibit(s) with a text-only entry. Any document filed conventionally will be noted in a Notice of Manual Filing.

3. Because documents scanned in color or containing a graphic take much longer to upload, filing parties must configure their scanners to scan documents at 200 dpi and in black and white rather than in color. If a color document is critical to the case, an original color copy can be filed conventionally or may be scanned in color and then uploaded to ECF.

4. The filing party is required to verify the readability of scanned documents before filing them electronically with the court. (Similar to the copy process, images of scanned documents could contain pages which skewed during scanning or were omitted altogether.)

5. Exhibits submitted conventionally shall be served on other parties pursuant to section II(B)(3) of these Procedures governing service of conventional documents. Exhibits filed conventionally will be listed in an electronically filed Notice of Manual Filing.

V. PUBLIC ACCESS TO CM/ECF

A. PUBLIC ACCESS AT THE COURT. Access to the electronic docket and documents filed in ECF is available to the public at no charge at the Clerk's Office during regular business hours. A copy fee for an electronic reproduction is required in accordance with 28 U.S.C. §1914.

Conventional copies and certified copies of electronically filed documents may be purchased at the Clerk's Office. The fee for copying and certifying will be in accordance with 28 U.S.C. §1914.

Please see Section VI regarding public access to electronic transcripts.

B. INTERNET ACCESS. Remote electronic access to ECF for viewing purposes is limited to subscribers to the Public Access to Court Electronic Records ("PACER") system. The Judicial Conference of the United States has determined that a user fee will be charged for remotely accessing certain detailed case information, such as filed documents and docket sheets in civil cases, but excluding review of calendars and similar general information.⁵

⁵ Non-judiciary CM/ECF users will be charged a per page fee to access electronic data such as docket sheets and case documents obtained remotely through the PACER system. A per document cap does not apply to transcripts. Transcripts may be obtained following a minimum 90 day restriction period for a per page fee, with no per document cap. Fees will be charged for each access regardless of whether or not the attorney has been given access to the transcript by the court through CM/ECF. The access fee does not apply to official recipients of electronic documents, i.e., parties legally required to receive service or to whom service is directed by the filer in the context of service under Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. Official recipients will receive the initial electronic copy of a document free to download as they see fit, but if they remotely access the document again, they will be charged the standard per page PACER fee.
