CRIME

There are hundreds of screen names who have published false and/or defamatory information on joeysalittlekid.BlogSpot.com. I ask whoever is the owner/operator of that site to publish this article on that site so all of the people who frequent that site know the truth and know of this demand for correction and retraction. It is impossible for me to list each specific false and/or defamatory statement as yet because there are approximately 40,000 published statements, and there are thousands, if not tens of thousands, of false and/or defamatory statements or support for such statements, and I have not yet been able to read everything.

I have thus far been unable to get a Texas court to enjoin these folks and force them to take down all the defamatory material. Until that is done, I feel I have no choice but to deny all the defamation here.

I am producing two expose documentaries about cyberstalking -- Slanderella and Slanderfella. Sean D. Fleming will be featured in Slanderfella.
